

Ben Goerges

Assistant Project Manager

Bringing his expansive knowledge of building to our construction defects team in 2014, Ben is very thorough & detailed in his site documentation, findings reports, and code & product research. He is involved in our report writing, preparation of our investigation & repair scopes from small residential to large commercial projects.

Ben's experience as a project Manager, assistant project manager, project engineer & estimator enables him to provide valuable insight. His construction project experience includes industrial, assisted living, community college, office buildings, apartments, hotels and concrete parking structures, and electrical estimating on a hospital, casino, fire station, retail spaces and offices.

Ben has worked in various capacities of project management for multi-million dollar projects. His responsibilities included writing subcontracts, requests for information, change order requests, submittals, and meeting minutes. He has also been in charge of inspections, managing budgets, scheduling, maintaining as-built drawings, and project closeout.
